

The Main Chamber

The Main Chamber was where the lady of the house would reside. Often she would sit and drink tea at the tea table and write letters to her friends and family near and far. The bed hangings you see here are made from a fabric called dimity, it has been reported that even George Washington slept with dimity bed hangings.